THE NEW UNIVERSITY. Professors and Students Getting to

Work-Lectures Next Week. Everything at the Catholic university today is rather quiet. The professors and students are busy getting settled and accustomed to their new quarters. The decorations have already been taken down and the chairs and tables that were in use during the dedication services yesterday are being removed. The university already has the appearance of getting settled down for steady work. The furniture for a large number of rooms, including the chairs and tables for the professors' dining rooms, has not yet arrived, and this has caused considerable inconvenience. It is expected, however, that it will reach here in the course of a few days. RELIGIOUS EXERCISES. Last evening at 8:30 all the students of the university were assembled in the chapel and an exercise of spiritual retreat was commenced. This will last four days, including Sunday evening. It consists of prayer, meditation, ser-mons and spiritual exercises of various kinds and is conducted by Bishop Keane and Abbe Hogan. Bishop Keane delivered the first sermon this morning.

LECTURES TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY. . On next Monday morning the regular work of the university will be inaugurated by the celebration of the mass of the Holy Ghost and the course of lectures will begin at once. The work will consist entirely of lectures, as all the courses are advanced or post-graduate ones.

Last evening the officials of the university presented handsome gold medals to Mr. Baldwin, the architect of the building; Mr. Brady. the master builder, and Mr. Hanrahan, who had charge of the stone work. in appreciation of the zeal they have shown in their work. The erection of the building has only occupied eighteen months. The medals are large and very heavy On one side they bear the image of Pope Leo XIII and on the other, in Latin, the phrase "He merits it." Cardinal Gibbons made the pre-

BASEBALL CONVENTIONS AT WORK-

STILL ON DECK.

The Base Ball Potentates in Session in New York and Dead-Locked.

New York, Nov. 14 .- The base ball men resumed their session at the Fifth Avenue hotel at 11:30 o'clock today to consider among other things contemplated changes in the constitu-

The association managers went into session at 10:30 o'clock. It was rumored about the hotel corridors that an attempt would be made to concentrate on W. H. Zaltz of Philadelphia for chairman.

It was noon when the association took a recess until this afternoon. Three more ballots were taken on the presidential question without result. The vote still remains: St. Louis, Columbus, Louisville and Athletics for Phetps of Louisville, against Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Baltimore and Kansas City for Krauthoff of Kansas City.

The base ball delegates to the league convention worked up to such a late hour last night that they did not get around to the hotel very early this morning.

Three or four important changes in the constitution were effected last night and when the convention assembled at noon today the consideration of the constitution was re-sumed. Section thirty-five, which reads, "Releases of players from contract or reservation, and future contracts with such players shall be regulated and governed by the national agreement of professional base ball clubs, and the league legislation made in pursuance thereof," was amended so as to read, that "no player without the consent of the club with which he is under contract or reservation can negotiate with any other club for his services, but if said consent is given, said player may negotiate with any club for his services and receive money consideration therefor, which may be accepted by the leasing club.'

This action does away with the system of sales over which there has recently been such a cry.

Section 36, which stated that "a manager or player whose contract has become void by reason of his club disbanding, withdrawing from or leaving its membership in the league, may engage for the remainder of the season league meeting's notice of such disbandonment, withdrawal or loss of membership," was cut out and another section inserted which provides that in any case such with-drawal of a club the players under contract or reservation shall be considered released therefrom, but that any negotiation for the services of any player must be made subject to transfer to any other club designated by the longue.

Section 44, which states that four umpires must be selected by the league, the number may be increased to five. The important subjects under consideration are the classification system and the matter of percentages between cities.

After the work on the constitution has been put through the question of the admission of Brooklyn and Cincinnati to the league will most likely be brought up for discussion.

SIGNED. Ryan and Williamson of the Chicago ball club followed Pfeffer's example vesterday and signed contracts with the new players' league for three years.

BALTIMORE DAY.

The Delegates to the Catholic Congress Having a Day About Town.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 .- Baltimore day, for the close of the Catholic centennial, was as bright and beautiful as could be desired. It was intended to show the visitors something of Baltimore and its environs; but a large majority of them, on account of the unpleasant weather yesterday, had started for their homes, Concordia opera house at 9 o'clock this morning, where conveyances were in readiness to take them out for a drive. Accommodations were provided for eight hundred, but not more than six hundred were on hand. This number included prelates, priests and delegates. A start was made at 9:15 o'clock, but it was 10:30 o'clock before the tally-ho with the committee for Baltimore day left the Concordia after all the guests were off on the trip. Monsignor McColgate, with Archbishop Cleary of Kingston, Canada, and Bishop Hawley of Newfoundland were among the first to leave. Among the prelates were Bishops Tuigg of Bittshurg Hapassey of Dubuses Horses Pittsburg, Henessey of Dubuque, Hogan of Kansas City, O'Connor of Omaha, and others. The tally-ho, drawn by four spirited iron grays, contained the committee, consisting of Dr. R. H. Goldsmith, Robert Biggs, J. D. Wheeler, Charles W. Hueisler, T. Foley Hiskey, William J. O'Brien, George F. Muth. Dr. Charles S. Grindall, Mark O. Shriver and Dennis Noble. The carriages all took the same route and went first to Druid Hill park.

EPIPHANY COLLEGE. After a drive through the park the carriages proceeded to the Epiphany college, at Highland park, and after inspecting that institution for the education of priests for the colored missions the visitors were taken to St. Mary's in-dustrial school. They reached the school at 1 o'clock and were welcomed by Mon. A. C. Colgan and Brother Alexius, president of the institution. An entertainment was given by the boys. Music was furnished by the industrial school band. At 2 o'clock a banquet was tendered the visitors and a number of speeches were made, in which the institution and Baltimore, its clergy and its tion. The banquet was in charge of a com-mittee consisting of Dr. R. H. Goldsmith, Robert Biggs and Chas. W. Heiusler. The reception to the cardinal and the members of the Catholic congress will begin at the city hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon. About 1,500 invitations have been issued to various persons, including governors, mayors of cities in this and other states and prominent citizens. This will not, however, debar any one who pre-sents himself at the city hall from getting admission and being presented to the mayor and cardinal. Letters of regret at inability to be present at the reception have been received from Gov. Lee of Virginia and the mayors of Coughlin has been indisputably associated with the white horse that car- 1.900,000 to 700,000 boxes and the shipments to ried Dr. Cronin away. He was seen at the Carlson cottage, and is known to have been drinking near the scene of the murder on the fatal night. He also stands accused of falsehood, of flagrant dereliction of duty when assigned to work on the case, and of seeking to ruin Dr. Cronin. Burke's tenantry of the cottage, his association with the mysterious J. B. Simonds and his flight for Europe after the murder will likely convict him. O'Sullivan has been caught in innumerable lies. He was also seen drinking with Coughlin in the neighborhood of the cot tage on the night of the murder. The strange contract he made with Dr. Cronin, which eventually resulted in luring the victim to his doom, is another strong point against the ice-man. Little Kunze's complicity in the conspiracy is not so well established as that of Burke, Coughlin and O'Sullivan, yet it appears from the tes-timony of the state's witnesses that the painter was the associate of Coughlin and O'Sullivan on the night of the murder; that he was seen to drive a bay horse in front of the cottage that day and that he visited Simond's flat on Clarke street. Beggs will probably be acquitted. He was arrested on information which seemed to associate him with a secret circle that had sealed the doctor's doom. Thus far Beggs has not been directly involved in the conspiracy. ONE MORE WITNESS. The last witness in the Cronin trial is Mr. Clancy, who will be examined Saturday. Mr. Clancy interviewed Iceman Sullivan on the evening Cronin's body was found, and carried the intelligence to Sullivan that the corpse of the doctor had been discovered. Sullivan was at supper when he called. When asked if he had heard the news Sullivan quietly replied

"Cronin's body is found," continued Mr. Clancy. Sullivan gasped and sank back in his chair. "Is it true?" he asked, trembling like a leaf, and, taking out his handkerchief nervously

"Well," said Mr. Clancy, "of course I don't know positively, but as you told me this morning you were acquainted with him, come with me and identify the body. Let us make sure. I have a cab at the door and the body is a mile from here." "Oh," Sullivan stammered, "I-I-I couldn't identify him. I—I—I wouldn't know him."

"But you have said you knew him well." "I'd know him in the street, if alive," he continued in great perturbation, "but I—I—I wouldn't know the body."

HOLDING BACK SOMETHING.

It is said that the state has some witnesse held back that will surprise the Cronin suspects. In addition to the story above Clancy may be asked to testify to an interview he had with O'Sullivan after Cronin's body was found, in which O'Sullivan denied all connection with the Clan-na-Gael, acquaintance with Dan Coughlin and Alexander Sullivan, and a great many other material facts that have since come out in evidence. The state has a witness who very important, but no one will be used until the defense has concluded its case. Mrs. Griffin has been kept off the stand because one of the things the defense will endeavor to prove is that O'Sullivan and Burke were not friends before the murder was committed. The state can also prove that O'Sullivan was keeping watch near the cottage when the murder was committed and stayed there until Coughlin and Kunze arrived. The state has also more evidence that will be more valuable when the defense is through than it would now. The belief is strongly expressed in some quarters that either Cooney "The Fox" or Simonds is within reach of the state and may be put on the stand. A WASHINGTON WITNESS. A man named Dodge, now living in Washington, may be called as a witness in the Cronin case. It is said that while standing on a street corner here during the latter part of April last four or five men, among whom were Dan Coughlin and Senior Guardian Beggs, were earnestly discussing some matter near where he stood. He paid no attention to what they were saying until he heard Coughlin veno mously exclaim: "There he goes in a buggy. He oughtn't to have many more buggy rides

"Hush," said Beggs, in a low but earnest and warning voice, "somebody may hear you."

Dodge looked toward the buggy pointed at by Coughlin and saw Dr. Cronin.

WHAT THE DEFENSE WILL DO. The lawyers for the prisoners were uncommunicative as to what their defense would be. It is understood, however, that they are going to prove an alibi. Sullivan, the iceman, will prove by seven witnesses that he was not away from his house on the night of May 4 after 7:30 o'clock. It is alleged that five of his men came home at 9:15 o'clock and that Sullivan got up and let them in. Mr. Newman, a saloon keeper, testified that Sullivan, Kunze, and Coughlin were in his place at 10:30 o'clock on the night of May 4. The iceman will prove by two witnesses that it was Sunday, when he was at Niemann's saloon, and that the saloon keeper was mistaken as to the iden-tity of Coughlin and Kunze. He will have several other alibis whenever needed. Dan Coughlin will that it was not Dinan's white horse that drove Dr. Cronin to his death. It is said that Mr. Forrest has two witnesses who will swear that they saw Dr. Cronin near Lincoln park on the evening of May 4, and that the horse was a dark bay. These two witnesses will testify, it is said, that they bowed to Cronin and that he returned the salutation.

Martin Burke's defense will be that he hired the Carlson cottage for Patrick Cooney, not knowing what it was to be used for. He will prove by several witnesses that he was in the own of Lake on the night of the murder. His in a very plausible manner. He will prove that when arrested at Winnipeg he was on his way to England to do "active work" for the Clan-na-Gael. That was the reason he assumed the name of W. J. Cooper. Kunze will deny everything and offer in evidence the time book of the man he worked for on Cottage Grove avenue. It is said that the book shows that Kunze work until 5 o'clock May 4.

John F. Beggs will have nothing to say. The state introduced no evidence connecting him with the conspiracy to murder Dr. Cronin. ANOTHER SUSPECT.

The Inter-Ocean says another important Cro nin suspect has come to light in the person of a former resident of Lakeview—an Irishman named McDonald. He is now said to be in Europe and the police are making strenuous efforts to locate him. Before the murder Mc-Donald was employed by the public works de-partment in Lakeview. After the disappear-ance of Dr. Cronin McDonald suddenly appeared to be in affluent circumstances and talked to his neighbors about a trip to Europe, and exhibited steamship tickets. May 19 the family disappeared. The neighbors assert that prior to May 4 McDonald was frequently visited by suspicious characters. The state attorney refuses to talk about the matter.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.-The prosecutors in the CHICAGO, Nov. 14 .- A. B. Knapp, a vineyard Cronin case are well satisfied with the case owner from Napa, Cal., says that all raisin they have made out against the suspects and growers who have not signed contracts for this year's crop will make small fortunes.

"The crop of the province of Malaga," said he, "has fallen off in half a dozen years from the United States have reclined from 1,000,000 to 112,000 boxes. Spain is no longer a competitor and the recent storms in California have cut down the product by half. This shock struck the market after most of the Malaga crop had been disposed of, thus leaving a large deficiency hard to overcome. Prices will boom and owners who have saved but a fractional part of their crop will realize as much as if they had the entire crop to sell. Our state now stands at the head of the line in producing raisins. California has conquered the American market and is stretching out for the markets of the world."

THE PANAMA CANAL. The Work Will Go on for Six Months Yet.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.-A. H. Hewetstown, an English engineer who has been inspecting the Panama canal, is here on his way home. He says: To abandon the canal would be a disgrace to the skill of this country. The issue of lottery bonds will keep work going six or eight months yet. After this there is no telling what will happen. While much of the plant is useless there yet retains a good stock of machinery of all kinds. The men who remained at work are the best of the company's employes. Hence, on the whole, work ought to be resumed. To complete the canal on a level with merely a tidal lock the removal of 100,000,000 cubic meters of earth is still necessary. A fair estimate of time for furnishing this portion of the canal would be from two to two and one half years.

TEMPERANCE IN IOWA. Will Mrs. Foster Carry Her Sisters in the State With Her?

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.-A dispatch to the News from Des Moines, Iowa, says: The news of the withdrawal of the Iowa Woman's Christian temperance union, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, from the national convention created no sensation here. It was expected. Mrs. Foster is strong in the Iowa organization, but now that she and her colleagues have withdrawn the query arises, will the organiza-tion in Iowa ratify their action?

The prohibition cause in the state is in a peculiar position. The election of the high license candidate for governor and the large gains made by the high license advocates in the legislature have spread consternation in the camp, which may lead to disintegration. republican party has borne the brunt of the fight for prohibition and it has apparently been its great load. Now that partial defeat has come it may be unwilling longer to champion the cause, and the Woman's Christian temperance union and other temperance organizations may be thrown entirely upon their own efforts, which would necessarily make them partisan. High license is likely to be enacted this winter, and the saloons will again appear in the state with the sanction of law. It remains to be seen whether the temperance forces will be able to hold themselves together with the republicans for two years and succeed in electing a legis-lature two years hence which will re-enact pro-

A Dog Trotter.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—One of the chief attractions at the fat stock show is "Doc," the trotting dog from Kansas City, an Irish setter, weighing 53 pounds. Last night he beat the buckskin pony three times around the ring. The spectators were most enthusiastic over the performance of the setter, and Mr. Green Gen. Robinson and other members of congress applauded rapturously and declared that no such novelty had ever been seen be-fore. When little Willie Ketchum, the dog's owner and driver, cut sharp in on the turns he held up the lines like a thorough horseman. The buckskin pony trotted one half mile in 1.38.

A PRETTY MUDDLE.

A Montana Court With Two Judges and Two Sheriffs and the Old Nick to Pay.

HELENA, MONT., Nov. 14.-That the Silver Bow muddle was not ended Tuesday when Mo-Hatton took possession of the bench and recognized Eugene Sullivau as sheriff was demonstrated yesterday. Sullivan is a democrat who was elected sheriff at the time McHatton was judge and by about the same vote. Lloyd, his opponent, was sheriff for the previous term, and claims he was re-elected by the throwing out of the tunnel precinct. After court adjourned Tuesday Sullivan made a demand on Lloyd for the keys of his office and the jail. The demand was refused and Sullivan put four armed men in possession of the court room, who held it Tuesday night. Lloyd also put ten extras on guard at his office and the jail to prevent Sulliwan taking forcible possession. Speaking of the shrievalty, a prominent attorney said: "The matter will probably come to an issue today. Some attorney for a prisoner confined in the jail will demand that his client be brought before the bar to plead. Then the question of who shall produce the prisoner before the court will be raised.
